5. International Narcotics Study

A follow-up report for you has been completed and it will be the primary agenda at the 26 November CIPC Meeting. [REDACTED]

25X1

- You will recall that this follow-up report is in response to a number of issues raised during the February 1984 NFIC discussions of the CIPC Narcotics Study. As a result of this discussion, you requested that we develop a follow-up report which examines several inter-related problem areas including:
  - scope and progress of interagency coordination on narcotics intelligence matters; and
  - detail the improvements made thus far in the collection of narcotics intelligence and recommend actions for satisfying specific collection needs. (S/NF)
- This report has had the full participation and cooperation of the A/NIO/Narcotics as well as representatives of the intelligence and law enforcement communities. Representatives from the National Narcotics Border Interdiction System (NNBIS) in the Office of the Vice President were also involved in the final drafting process.

6. Combat Intelligence Analysis

The Director, National Security Agency (DIRNSA), requested that the CIPC investigate the problem of properly balancing combat intelligence analysis being conducted in the forward area vs. tailored intelligence provided from centralized, resource-efficient processing and analytic centers. organization. However, given the cross-disciplinary nature of the problem and its potential for impacting on the Intelligence Community ability for ensuring a timely and effective flow of intelligence to all consumers, there is merit in having the CIPC conduct a preliminary investigation of the problem and develop specific recommendations for addressing this issue.
